WALTON'S LAWYERS JOCKEY TO BLOCK VOTE

AIM TO DELAY THE IMPEACHMENT PLAN IN STATE SENATE

AGGRESSIVE MOVES DESIGNED TO AID GOVERNOR WERE DEFEATED

GOVERNOR CONFIDENT AS EVER
AND CLINGS TO WISH TO FIGHT TO FINISH

(By United Press)

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 2: Attorneys for Governor J. C. Walton today began a second day of legal jockeying in an effort to block or prevent a vote of the executive's impeachment in the state senate.

When the senators met in the court of impeachment assembled at 10 a. m. they began consideration of a demurrer filed by the governor's legal staff against six of the twenty-two charges faced by the executive.

Walton's supporters had little hope that the maneuvers would change the attitude of the senate, plainly shown in the primary voting.

Aggressive moves designed to aid the cause of the governor were defeated with only one or two supporting votes.

The governor appeared as confident as ever and clung to his determination to stay in the fight until the finish.

Opinion of the senators on meeting today was that the preliminaries should be gotten over with as soon as possible and the actual trial started. Some hoped to have the vote on one of the charges by night. Upholding of only one of the many accusations against Walton will be sufficient for his removal.

Prosecutors under the leadership of W. E. Disney expressed themselves as decided to give the defense sufficient time to answer the charges so that there would be no basis for the claim that the governor was being "railroaded." As a result, the senate after acting upon the demurrer may adjourn over the week end.

Attorneys for Walton in asking that the leading charges be dissolved contended the prosecution was the result of a conspiracy on the part of the Ku Klux Klan to oust the executive because of his fight against that organization.

The 22 charges constituting the bill of impeachment filed by the lower house of the state legislature against Governor J. C. Walton are as follows:

1. That he illegally appointed Charles H. Baskin, a member of the state legislature, as a district judge.
2. That he diverted state funds to his private use by putting his personal chauffeur on the health department pay rolls.
3. That he prohibited the meeting of a grand jury here to investigate his official conduct.
4. That he used his official powers to accumulate private credit and property.
5. That he accepted a bribe to pass a certain institutional appropriation.
6. That he suspended the writ of habeas corpus.
7. That he dispersed an assembly of the state legislature with military force.
8. That he placed Okmulgee county under martial law without cause.
9. That he placed the city of Tulsa under martial law without cause.
10. That he placed Tulsa county under martial law without cause.
11. That he placed the entire state under martial law without cause.
12. That he attempted to prevent a statewide election.
13. That he loaded the state payrolls with superfluous employees.
14. That he prevented execution of the law providing for capital punishment.
15. That he issued a health deficiency certificate without occasion.
16. That he established a military censorship over the press.
17. That he appointed hundreds of special police officers without authority of law.
18. That he filed a fraudulent report of campaign expenses.

19. That he abused the pardon and parole power.
20. That he collected funds from organizations and individuals for his private benefit.

INCOME TAX FORM 1040 SIMPLIFIED; SIX PAGE BLANK NOW ONE SHEET

Washington, Nov. 2.—"Form 1040," which has stumped many an income taxpayer with its six pages of questions, instructions and what not, is to be simplified.

Hereafter, the internal revenue bureau announced, it will consist of a single sheet and will be used in reporting net income of not more than $5,000 derived chiefly from salary and wages. Questions will be on one side of the blank; instructions on the other.

"More than 4,000,000 persons, or approximately 70 per cent of those who annually are required to file individual income tax returns," the bureau's announcement said, "are favorably affected by the revision and simplification."

The six page form will continue in use for taxpayers any of whose income is derived from business or profession, sale of property or rents, even though the total is less than $5,000 a year, and for those who have yearly incomes of more than $5,000, regardless of the source.

SWINDLED IOWAN STILL TRUSTS GIRL

LAYS LOSS OF $15,000 TO FAKE MARSHALS—UNDAUNTED BY FINANCIAL BLOW

Oelwein, Iowa, Nov. 2.—Ben Fereday, aged 62, retired farmer and for many years one of the best known residents of Fayette county, started to recoup the modest fortune he lost when he was swindled twice in six days in Minneapolis, losing $15,000 to two men who declared they were United States marshals and a young woman who promised to get a divorce and marry him if he would deposit a large sum of money in a safety deposit box as security. The $10,000 vanished from the safety deposit box and the threats of the men resulted in their being paid $5,000.

"These hands of mine have helped me out of trouble before and they will do so again," he said. "When a Hazelton bank closed seven years ago, I lost a lot of money, but I made it over again."

Fereday does not intend to prosecute the young woman, he said.

"I still believe in that young woman," he said. "I believe my troubles are due to the two men who claimed they were marshals."

His wife, an invalid for many years, died four years ago.

A burglar tried to break into the Fereday home last month. Fereday gave the intruder a battle.

"I got his shirt before he got away," he said.

Fereday lives alone in a two story home at 19 Fifth Avenue E., in this city.

*ZEV STARTS AS A FAVORITE IN THE LATONIA RACE

SAM HILDRETH, TRAINER OF
ZEV, TO GIVE 3 YEAR OLD
FEEL OF TRACK TODAY

COLT HAS ALREADY WON $265,-
000 AND MAY SNATCH $50,-
000 PURSE TOO

(By United Press)

Latonia Race Track, Ky., Nov. 2.—Zev will start favorite in the Latonia championship tomorrow provided the Sinclair colt shows no ill effects from his journey here.

The triumphant son of The Finn bids fair to carry more money than either of his rivals, My Own, the challenger, or In Memoriam, western colt about which less is known. Rialto, the Whitney entry, is to be the long shot.

Sam Hildreth, trainer of Zev, expected to have the dusky three year old here before noon and may give him the feel of the track late in the day or may order him directly to his stall, four doors away from My Own.

The Sinclair colt is not as popular, perhaps, as his record warrants, but the pari-mutuel machines will record opinion rather than sentiment on the morrow.

There was something coldly impressive about the way Zev on the eve of the most important race of his career stopped to pick up a paltry $5,000 at Empire City.

The Ranocosa stable is already within $13,000 of the world's record for money won by a single stable during a single year—$397,342 gained by the late James M. Keeney's horses in 1907. It wants but this victory to put the stable earnings in a class by themselves.

As for Zev, the colt has won $265,000 already and the $50,000 purse tomorrow, if he can snatch it from his fleet rival, will put him ahead on total earnings of any other thoroughbred that ever strode save one—Ksar, the French champion who holds the world's record for money won with $320,000 to his credit; but Ksar is through while Zev may have many more triumphs and win purses ahead of him.

Karl Wiedemann, Kentucky brewer has his horse In Memoriam in the championship tomorrow and from Bob Malmoran, the colt's trainer, down to the lowliest saddle polisher, the stable is outspokenly sure their horse is going to beat both of the easterners.

Few horsemen vote Rialto out of it altogether. "Never count a Whitney horse beaten until the race is over" is a turf byword.

But the talk today along the rail is Zev or My Own—My Own or Zev?

Kentucky is brewing up its finest flavors for this gala turf event of the fast fading year.

The setting is appropriate; from a picturesque as well as histrionic viewpoint. Latonia, having the fastest thoroughbreds of the land since 1882 is a fit stage for the turf drama of 1923.

To eastern eyes the Kentucky track presents an unexpected and very welcome touch of beauty, quite in contrast to the too often smoke begrimed flat skyline of the seaboard parks.

Viewed from the stands are the sharp rising hills in their November brown and seem to flank the very edge of the park. The soft center field with its carefully contoured banks and widening miniature lakes, its stubble and vines, presents a restful picture between the races.

There are seven events on the card tomorrow, some eastern horses having come along with Zev to race between times.

FOOD SITUATION IS ACUTE IN GERMANY, PRICES SOAR AGAIN

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The food situation overshadowed politics in Germany today as prices soared to new high levels. Prices trebled overnight.

Eggs and butter could not be purchased in Berlin today for any money.

Merchants were either holding back supplies for higher prices or had been unable to replenish their stocks.

SOCIALIST MEMBERS HAVE RESIGNED

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The socialist members of the Stresemann coalition cabinet offered the chancellor their resignations declaring their action was in accordance with the demand of the socialist party yesterday that unless the state of siege in the country was lifted and drastic action taken at once against the Bavarians, the socialists would withdraw from the coalition.

SEPARATISTS STORM BERLIN CITY HALL

Berlin, Nov. 2.—More than 1,000 separatists stormed the city hall in Aix La Chapelle today cutting the water mains and flooding the inner part of the city.

The city hall employees demanded that all bells and whistles in the city be sounded to call the populace to their aid, but they finally succumbed.

The separatists carried off the mayor and some other officials, it was reported.

"Dispatches from special correspondents in the Rhineland said bodies of separatists from Coblenz, Duisberg, Crefeld and other towns were brought in for the attack.

NEVER HAD HAPPY DAY WITH HUSBAND

TESTIMONY GIVEN BY MRS. HELEN ELWOOD STOKES

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 2.—"I never had a happy day with W. E. D. Stokes in my life after I married him," Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes said today when she resumed the stand in the trial of her aged husband for divorce.

"I regretted my marriage to Stokes almost as soon as the ceremony was over," she said.

Mrs. Stokes' statement was made while she was under cross examination by Max D. Steuer, chief of the Stokes' counsel.

AMERICAN COMPANY GETS ZEPPELIN RIGHTS

(By United Press)

Akron, Ohio, Nov. 2.—While the German Zeppelin passenger rights have been purchased by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, it has not been definitely determined whether the giant dirigible will be manufactured at Wingfoot Lake, Akron, officials of the company said today.

—Zev has arrived to defend his title as champion three year old of 1923 against the fastest of his challengers.

The Sinclair colt which will start tomorrow against My Own, In Memoriam, Rialto and Taylor Hay, a presumptuous youngster who was entered at the last minute, came through the trip from New York without a scratch.

Sam Hildreth, Zev's trainer, was on hand to see the colt taken from his car.

Taylor Hay, owned by C. W. Hay is believed to have been entered for sentimental reasons. The colt never has shown any form which entitled him to run in such company. C. W. Hay is a steward at Latonia.

*FRANCE WILL NOT BUDGE FROM ITS ANNOUNCED STAND

IS OBSTINATE IN POSITION TAK-EN ON REPARATIONS
ISSUE

GERMANY'S BREAKUP WILL END
HOPE OF EXTRACTING REP-
ARATIONS

(By JOHN DeGANDT)

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)

Paris, Nov. 2.—Premier Poincare probably will not budge from his stand on reparations despite America's disappointment, it was said in well informed circles here today.

France faces the threatening dissolution of Germany with conflicting emotions.

Although it would leave her more powerful than at any time since Napoleon and would end the bugaboo of fear of German's "war of revenge" the price is too great.

This is the gist of opinion of Premier Poincare and French government circles as outlined in official statements.

It is realized that Germany's breakup would end once and for all the hope of extracting reparations from Germany. The component states would each be too weak economically and financially to contribute to reparations even if subjected to force, it is believed.

And the one thing France needs and must have soon is their reparations payments in cash. At present interest charges on money borrowed in advance from Germany's account is reaching large proportions. A finance authority estimated that within 25 years the interest would equal the entire amount of the present running expenses of the nation unless Germany paid at a faster rate than heretofore.

There is another element restraining France in her desire to see her traditional enemy broken up. That is the uncertainty of what might happen when Russia gets on her feet again. The future of Soviet Russia is the nightmare of French and central European statesmen. With her inexhaustible reservoir of manpower and with little intensive organization, Russia could sweep through Europe to the Rhine and beyond.

As long as the Poincare government is in power, Poincare will make every effort to preserve the unity of Germany with the possible exception of the Rhineland if the puppet separatists movement could be made to succeed. The separatists have promised to pay reparations if they can establish a republic permanently.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE AT HIS GERMAN CASTLE

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The former crown prince of Germany has arrived at his castle at Oels Silesia, the Deutsche Zeitung said today. The paper based its information on "private news."

The United Press was informed by members of the castle staff, however, that the prince was not in Oels. There was no confirmation of the newspaper report in other quarters.

NEEDHAM CONVICTED OF MUSIC SWINDLE

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The jury in the federal trial of W. L. Needham took pen in hand and dashed off a little swan song for the erstwhile impresario of the Musicians Selfmake company.

Needham, charged with using the mails to defraud hopeful song writers, faces the possible sentence of 15 years in the federal penitentiary and a fine of $10,000.

U. S. DOES NOT WANT TOO MUCH CHANGE BY FRANCE IN PROPOSAL

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 2.—The United States has made plain to France that it will withdraw from the proposed expert investigation of Germany's capacity to pay reparations if the scope of the conference is restricted in advance by Premier Poincare, it was learned today.

A communication was made to the French government by Secretary of State Hughes through the French representative in Washington, M. Andre De Laboulaye, it was understood.

JAPAN PAYS HOMAGE TO U. S. AMBASSADOR

UNUSUAL DEMONSTRATION STAG- ED IN TOKIO AS CYRUS WOODS LEAVES FOR HOME

Tokio, Nov. 2.—An unusual demonstration was arranged for yesterday on the occasion of the departure of Ambassador and Mrs. Cyrus E. Woods of the United States for Yokohama after a visit to the imperial palace, where the empress expressed her thanks to them for their work in behalf of Japan in and following the earthquake and fire. At Yokohama they will spend the night aboard the liner President Cleveland, on which they are to return to the United States.

Streets and buildings were gaily decorated here with Japanese flags in honor of the emperor's birthday, and the Stars and Stripes were displayed in many places in honor of the visit of the American ambassador. The ambassador and Mrs. Woods attended a concert in Hibiya park, where patriotic music of both nations was played.

All ceremonies in honor of the emperor's birthday were abandoned, owing to the earthquake.

REPORT ON CONDITION OF THE COTTON CROP

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 2.—The condition of the cotton crop on October 25th was 47.8 per cent of normal, indicating a total production this year of 10,248,500 pound bales, the department of agriculture reported today. The October 25th condition indicates a yield per acre of about 128.9 pounds, the department reported.

Last year the total production was 9,761,817 bales and two years ago 7,553,641 bales.

REPORT BOOSTS COTTON PRICE

New York, Nov. 2.—Cotton quotations on the New York market advanced from 60 to 120 points immediately after the issuance of the government report today indicating a total production this year of only 10,248,000 bales.

CONVICT REFUSES INFORMATION ON BLACKMAIL PLOT

(By United Press)

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 2.—Charles Currey, Nebraska convict who claims to hold the solution of the blackmail plot said to have caused the suicide of Mayor Folsom of Irvington, New Jersey here September 25th, last night became an enigma to police questioners.

"It is nobody's business," he shouted to questioners when asked if he had ever gone under another name. Under the fire of constant questioning for hours he became surly and answered, "I don't know," to most queries.

All attempts of police to gain names of the blackmail ring thought responsible for Folsom's death were futile.

VIRGINIA AND ST. PAUL MAN
LOST LIVES IN PELICAN LAKE
DUCK HUNTING

Three drownings, reported at and near Brainerd, shocked the city today. The first was that of John Wgeishofski, a worker at the Northwest Paper company. The others were two hunters from Virginia and St. Paul who were reported losing their lives in Pelican lake.

Wgeishofski Drowned This Morning

John Wgeishofski, 905 North Bluff avenue, drowned at about 11:20 this morning, while at work on a walking boom about 100 feet above the dam at the Northwest Paper Mill.

According to reports, no one saw the fatal accident, but J. A. Janek working nearby heard a loud call for help and turned around just in time to see Wgeishofski go down for the last time.

The entire force at the paper mill has been searching for the body but no trace had been found of it at 2:30 this afternoon. The drowning took place in about 25 feet of water, it is said.

The body of John Wgeishofski was found shortly after 2:30 this afternoon, near the point where he was last seen by J. A. Janek. It was taken to the McNamara undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial.

Pelican Lake Tragedy

Reports reached Brainerd at noon today that two men were drowned in Pelican lake while hunting this morning. No details of the drowning could be learned at this time.

One of the men is said to be a Mr. Harding, of Virginia, Minn., president of the Virginia Light and Power Company. The other is R. W. Thayer, Range representative of the Northwestern Fuel Company of St. Paul.

The fuel company received a telegram from Nisswa, telling of the drowning, and immediately telephoned Milton Mahlum, of the Mahlum Lumber Co., who has gone to Nisswa in an effort to learn the details. The coroner's office has been notified and is trying to get the details of the accident.

HEALTH TRAINING IS VITAL PART OF EDUCATIONAL PLAN

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 2.—Health training is to become a most important part of Minnesota's educational system.

Immediate steps are to be taken to make it the first fundamental objective of education in practice as it is now recognized theoretically.

E. W. Everts, director of the state health education department created by the last legislature so informed an audience attending one of the largest health education conferences ever held in Minnesota. Seven well known authorities on health education addressed the conference this morning.

"There is a definite price we must pay for health," said Everts, "if we are willing to pay that price we can all be healthy."

The price, he said, is the development of a broader activity through organized play. This will be carried on through the intermediate and higher institutions of education and will also be developed for adult education and practice.

BITTER DEBATE ON EVIDENCE

Oklahoma City, Nov. 2.—Bitter debate on the demand by attorneys for Governor J. C. Walton that the most serious impeachment charges against the executive be dissolved marked today's session of the Oklahoma state senate.

Attorneys took up the demurrer filed to the chief indictments on Walton's behalf point by point and indications were that arguments would continue throughout the day. Agreement was reached to allow Walton's advisors all of the time they desired to debate the issues involved.

New York, Nov. 2.—"I never had a happy day with W. E. D. Stokes in my life after I married him," Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes said today when she resumed the stand in the trial of her aged husband for divorce.

"I regretted my marriage to Stokes almost as soon as the ceremony was over," she said.

Mrs. Stokes' statement was made while she was under cross examination by Max D. Steuer, chief of the Stokes' counsel.

AMERICAN COMPANY GETS ZEPPELIN RIGHTS

(By United Press)
Akron, Ohio, Nov. 2.—While the German Zeppelin passenger rights have been purchased by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, it has not been definitely determined whether the giant dirigible will be manufactured at Wingfoot Lake, Akron, officials of the company said today.

Zev has arrived to defend his title as champion three year old of 1923 against the fastest of his challengers.

The Sinclair colt which will start tomorrow against My Own, In Memoriam, Rialto and Taylor Hay, a presumptuous youngster who was entered at the last minute, came through the trip from New York without a scratch.

Sam Hildreth, Zev's trainer, was on hand to see the colt taken from his car.

Taylor Hay, owned by C. W. Hay is believed to have been entered for sentimental reasons. The colt never has shown any form which entitled him to run in such company. C. W. Hay is a steward at Latonia.

FRANCE WILL NOT BUDGE FROM ITS ANNOUNCED STAND

IS OBSTINATE IN POSITION TAKEN ON REPARATIONS ISSUE

GERMANY'S BREAKUP WILL END HOPE OF EXTRACTING REPARATIONS

(By JOHN DeGANDT)
(Copyright 1923 by United Press)

Paris, Nov. 2.—Premier Poincare probably will not budge from his stand on reparations despite America's disappointment, it was said in well informed circles here today.

France faces the threatening dissolution of Germany with conflicting emotions.

Although it would leave her more powerful than at any time since Napoleon and would end the bugaboo of fear of German's "war of revenge" the price is too great.

This is the gist of opinion of Premier Poincare and French government circles as outlined in official statements.

It is realized that Germany's breakup would end once and for all the hope of extracting reparations from Germany. The component states would each be too weak economically and financially to contribute to reparations even if subjected to force, it is believed.

And the one thing France needs and must have soon is their reparations payments in cash. At present interest charges on money borrowed in advance from Germany's account is reaching large proportions. A finance authority estimated that within 25 years the interest would equal the entire amount of the present running expenses of the nation unless Germany paid at a faster rate than heretofore.

There is another element restraining France in her desire to see her traditional enemy broken up. That is the uncertainty of what might happen when Russia gets on her feet again. The future of Soviet Russia is the nightmare of French and central European statesmen. With her inexhaustible reservoir of manpower and with little intensive organization, Russia could sweep through Europe to the Rhine and beyond.

As long as the Poincare government is in power, Poincare will make every effort to preserve the unity of Germany with the possible exception of the Rhineland if the puppet separatists movement could be made to succeed. The separatists have promised to pay reparations if they can establish a republic permanently.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE AT HIS GERMAN CASTLE

(By United Press)
Berlin, Nov. 2.—The former crown prince of Germany has arrived at his castle at Oels Silesia, the Deutsche Zeitung said today. The paper based its information on "private news."

The United Press was informed by members of the castle staff, however, that the prince was not in Oels.

There was no confirmation of the newspaper report in other quarters.

NEEDHAM CONVICTED OF MUSIC SWINDLE

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The jury in the federal trial of W. L. Needham took pen in hand and dashed off a little swan song for the erstwhile impresario of the Musicians Selfmaker company.

Needham, charged with using the mails to defraud hopeful song writers, faces the possible sentence of 15 years in the federal penitentiary and a fine of $10,000.

U. S. DOES NOT WANT TOO MUCH CHANGE BY FRANCE IN PROPOSAL

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 2.—The United States has made plain to France that it will withdraw from the proposed expert investigation of Germany's capacity to pay reparations if the scope of the conference is restricted in advance by Premier Poincare, it was learned today.

A communication was made to the French government by Secretary of State Hughes through the French representative in Washington, M. Andre De Laboulaye, it was understood.

JAPAN PAYS HOMAGE TO U. S. AMBASSADOR

UNUSUAL DEMONSTRATION STAGED IN TOKIO AS CYRUS WOODS LEAVES FOR HOME

Tokio, Nov. 2.—An unusual demonstration was arranged for yesterday on the occasion of the departure of Ambassador and Mrs. Cyrus E. Woods of the United States for Yokohama after a visit to the imperial palace, where the empress expressed her thanks to them for their work in behalf of Japan in and following the earthquake and fire. At Yokohama they will spend the night aboard the liner President Cleveland, on which they are to return to the United States.

Streets and buildings were gaily decorated here with Japanese flags in honor of the emperor's birthday, and the Stars and Stripes were displayed in many places in honor of the visit of the American ambassador. The ambassador and Mrs. Woods attended a concert in Hibiya park, where patriotic music of both nations was played.

All ceremonies in honor of the emperor's birthday were abandoned, owing to the earthquake.

The body of John Wgeishofski was found shortly after 2:30 this afternoon, near the point where he was last seen by J. A. Janek. It was taken to the McNamara undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial.

REPORT ON CONDITION OF THE COTTON CROP

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 2.—The condition of the cotton crop on October 25th was 47.8 per cent of normal, indicating a total production this year of 10,248,500 pound bales, the department of agriculture reported today. The October 25th condition indicates a yield per acre of about 128.9 pounds, the department reported.

Last year the total production was 9,761,817 bales and two years ago 7,953,641 bales.

REPORT BOOSTS COTTON PRICE

New York, Nov. 2.—Cotton quotations on the New York market advanced from 60 to 120 points immediately after the issuance of the government report today indicating a total production this year of only 10,248,000 bales.

CONVICT REFUSES INFORMATION ON BLACKMAIL PLOT

(By United Press)
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 2.—Charles Currey, Nebraska convict who claims to hold the solution of the blackmail plot said to have caused the suicide of Mayor Folsom of Irvington, New Jersey here September 25th, last night became an enigma to police questioners.

"It is nobody's business," he shouted to questioners when asked if he had ever gone under another name. Under the fire of constant questioning for hours he became surly and answered, "I don't know," to most queries.

All attempts of police to gain names of the blackmail ring thought responsible for Folsom's death were futile.

PAPER MILL WORKER DROWNED IN RIVER, 2 HUNTERS IN LAKE

JOHN WGEISHOFSKI FELL OFF
WALKING BOOM NEAR THE NORTHWEST PAPER CO.

VIRGINIA AND ST. PAUL MAN
LOST LIVES IN PELICAN LAKE
DUCK HUNTING

Three drownings, reported at and near Brainerd, shocked the city today. The first was that of John Wgeishofski, a worker at the Northwest Paper company. The others were two hunters from Virginia and St. Paul who were reported losing their lives in Pelican lake.

Wgeishofski Drowned This Morning

John Wgeishofski, 905 North Bluff avenue, drowned at about 11:20 this morning, while at work on a walking boom about 100 feet above the dam at the Northwest Paper Mill.

According to reports, no one saw the fatal accident, but J. A. Janek working nearby heard a loud call for help and turned around just in time to see Wgeishofski go down for the last time.

The entire force at the paper mill has been searching for the body but no trace had been found of it at 2:30 this afternoon. The drowning took place in about 25 feet of water, it is said.

The body of John Wgeishofski was found shortly after 2:30 this afternoon, near the point where he was last seen by J. A. Janek. It was taken to the McNamara undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial.

Pelican Lake Tragedy

Reports reached Brainerd at noon today that two men were drowned in Pelican lake while hunting this morning. No details of the drowning could be learned at this time.

One of the men is said to be a Mr. Harding, of Virginia, Minn., president of the Virginia Light and Power Company. The other is R. W. Thayer, Range representative of the Northwestern Fuel Company of St. Paul.

The fuel company received a telegram from Nisswa, telling of the drowning, and immediately telephoned Milton Mahlum, of the Mahlum Lumber Co., who has gone to Nisswa in an effort to learn the details. The coroner's office has been notified and is trying to get the details of the accident.

HEALTH TRAINING IS VITAL PART OF EDUCATIONAL PLAN

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Nov. 2.—Health training is to become a most important part of Minnesota's educational system.

Immediate steps are to be taken to make it the first fundamental objective of education in practice as it is now recognized theoretically.

E. W. Everts, director of the state health education department created by the last legislature so informed an audience attending one of the largest health education conferences ever held in Minnesota. Seven well known authorities on health education addressed the conference this morning.

"There is a definite price we must pay for health," said Everts, "if we are willing to pay that price we can all be healthy."

The price, he said, is the development of a broader activity through organized play. This will be carried on through the intermediate and higher institutions of education and will also be developed for adult education and practice.

BABCOCK ROADS
IN GOOD CONDITION

St. Paul, Nov. 2—Minnesota trunk highways, sometimes called Babcock roads and marked with official numbers on yellow stars, are in good condition as a whole and in better than average shape for the winter freeze-up.

This is the summary today with the last 1923 trunk route condition bulletin to be issued by the state highway department. The record breaking traffic of the past season greatly increased maintenance outlays, especially on the overburdened gravelled sections, but the system served better than was expected by highway engineers. Resumption of the bulletin service early next season, also publication of a new trunk highway condition map, is planned.

The condition bulletin today insofar as it refers to roads in the Brainerd Lake Region:

No. 2—Good—Carlton to Moorhead. Carlton—good—McGregor—good—fair—Aitkin—good—Brainerd—good—fair—Mottley—fair—Staples—fair—Wadena—good—Detroit—good—fair—Moorhead.

Nelson-Bloom

Albin Nelson and Miss Bertha Bloom were united in marriage on Thursday evening, Nov. 1st, at seven o'clock at the Bethlehem Lutheran parsonage, Rev. O. S. Winther reading the service, in the presence of a few intimate friends.

Harold C. Erickson acted as best man, and Miss Anna T. Erickson as bridesmaid.

The newlyweds will make their home in Brainerd, where the groom is employed by the Northern Pacific Railway Co.

A delicious luncheon was served in the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Torkel Thompson, South Long Lake, to a large number of friends and relatives.

FREE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE COURSE

Given by Evangelists M. E. Anderson and N. J. Aalborg, Returned Missionaries

SERVICES OF REVIVAL NATURE

Program at Gardner Hall Opens Sunday Night, Nov. 4 and Includes Nov. 10

Evangelists M. E. Anderson and N. J. Aalborg, returned missionaries, have secured Gardner hall and will conduct a free illustrated lecture course. These services will be of a revival nature both educational and spiritual.

The opening lecture will be on Sunday night at 8 o'clock November 4th. The topic: "Brainerd's Greatest Need." The other subjects to be presented during the week are as follows:

Monday night—"The Christ We Forget."

Tuesday night—"Where God and Man Meet."

Wednesday night—"The Coming Inevitable Change in the World Map." A special prediction of U. S.

Thursday night—"Heaven Where Will it be? Is it a real place? Will the Redeemed know one another?"

Friday night—"The Glorious Return of the Prince of Peace."

Saturday night—"Advertising in the sky. A message to you from the sun, moon and stars."

A special feature of this lecture course will be the music, inspiring community song service preceding the lecture.

There will be songs in the dark, beautiful Gospel songs, special musical numbers, instrumental and vocal.

Come and help God make the world better. Bring the children and let them see the pictures—free, is the request made by the missionaries.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that give an amazing brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, J. E. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

GOOD DAIRY BARN MAKES FOR PROFIT

If Properly Built It Is Good Investment for Farm.

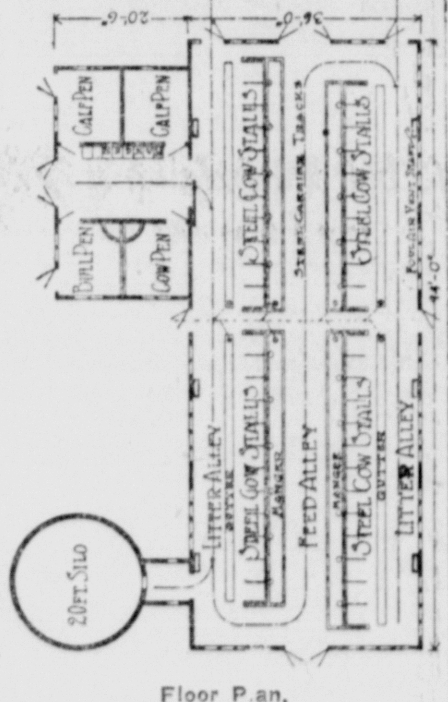

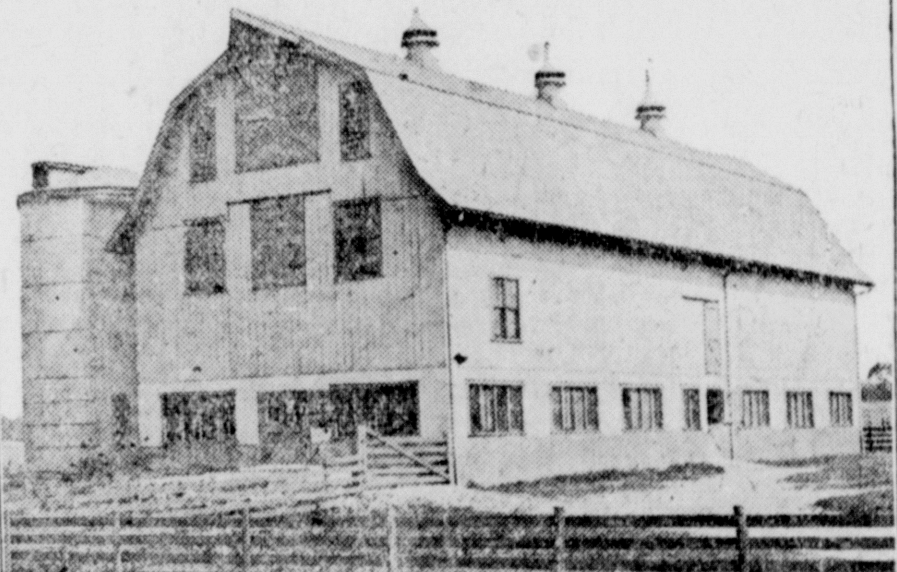

CARE OF STOCK IS IMPORTANT

Dairy Barn Cannot Be Genuinely Useful Unless Planned With Reference to Requirements of Each Farmer's Herd.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD
Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1521 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

A modern dairy barn with its silo and yard demands fully as careful planning as the farm house and its attendant buildings. Just as the farm house must serve its occupants the whole year through, so does the dairy barn serve the herd day by day, for even in summer its care adds to the ever-present chores.

A dairy barn cannot be bought like so many yards of gingham or like the lumber for a fence. It must be carefully planned with the requirements of the herd in view, likewise for the cutting down of unnecessary labor. All the modern developments in sanitation, which mean so much to the farmer in the profitable production and sale of dairy products, must be considered and followed to the best of the builder's ability. Light is equally as important as cleanliness.

Floor Plan.

and proper ventilation and drainage not only ease up the work but keep the herd in a condition which removes any particular worry over sickly or unhealthy cows.

Of course, stalls, mangers, gutters, alleys and pens are nowadays standardized units which can be installed in any barn, regardless of its style and size. But our object is the planning of a particular barn as a whole, like the one illustrated.

This one was carefully located with reference to the other buildings of the farm. It was placed a distance of 200 feet from the house, and in a direction which sheltered it from the direct blow of hot summer winds. This left the open yard running across the south and east angle, with the barn's long axis north and south. By this means sunlight was inveigled into the stalls as much as possible.

The ceiling height is 8½ feet, and the well-proportioned gambrel roof gives fine hay storage space above. The width of the main structure is 36 feet; the length, over all, is 94 feet, and two rows of stalls run lengthwise of the barn. As a general rule it will be found that the width of a dairy barn is best kept between 32 and 38 feet. This width makes the framing less an expense than it otherwise might be, the storage of hay becomes more satisfactory and the light is cut off from the inside to a great extent. Of course the objection to width does not apply to length. This latter dimension can be made to fit the herd requirements, and the barn even carried around in an L or U shape, to give a more sheltered yard.

Observe that the cows face a central feed alley, equipped with steel carrier tracks. This gives entrance by two doors, and lessens the danger of crowding in and out, there is better light for milking, the gutters get the sanitation value of sunlight, and the ventilating system does not present any particular problem in order to function satisfactorily. The litter alleys have steel carrier tracks which make this part of the chores something taken care of easily and with dispatch.

The stalls are 3 feet 6 inches wide; the length of stall platform from curb to gutter is 4 feet 8 inches. The mangers can be of metal, wood or concrete, and of a style, width and height which discourage bossy from snouting too much feed into the alley. The drinking troughs each serve two cows.

Adjoining are cow pen, bull pen and calf pens. The latter are necessary at calving time, and might serve with the cow pen as a hospital when cows are sick. Or, bossy may be segregated for the purpose of testing on milk and butter yield over a certain period. The floor is of concrete, with wood block or cork brick standing platform. Drains serve the bottom of each manger and gutter, leading out to a concrete manure receiving pit.

HAD A PASSION FOR ANALYSIS

Stendahl Was Also a Novelist, Critic and Author of Glorified Guide Books.

Stendahl's own literary activity could hardly have been more diversified. He was at the same time a novelist, a musical and dramatic critic, and author of a history of painting and a number of glorified guide books. Everything he wrote glows with energy and sincerity. His heroes persist in battering down prejudice, and when, as in "Rouge et Noir," they end on the scaffold, they meet death still scoffing at the hypocritical deceptions of society. Stendahl would have scorned the modern conception of history as a series of trends and movements.

History in his eyes was a succession of great men bending destiny to their will. The Girondins failed because in a time of crisis they relied on intelligence rather than force of character. Such was Stendahl's philosophy of history, and so far as the cult of energy goes it was neither very original nor very interesting. The fascination of the man lies in the other half of his character. Compare his "Memoirs d'un Touriste" with any other contemporary book of travel, and Stendahl's greater cosmopolitanism is at once apparent. He can discuss Andrew Jackson, the Edinburgh Review, the Gothic architecture, with equal gusto.

With the best will in the world, intellectual curiosity cannot be kept within national limits. Stendahl was born with a passion for analysis. The fortunes of a certain lieutenant of artillery created within him an abnormal appetite for knowledge and sensation. If he was ruthless in satisfying these cravings, he was at least ruthlessly honest in recording the fact to himself and to posterity. He will never be as popular abroad as he is at home, because the Frenchman thrills to what is not and to what is clear to a degree that no foreigner can understand. We envy his intellect and we respect his sincerity; but for all that, we pass by on the other side.

He'd Prove the Reverse.

"Main Street" Novel Makes an Ideal Picture

"Main Street," which will be shown at the New Park on Saturday and Sunday, is a picture of pictures. The word great has been bandied about so often and freely that it has lost some of its connotations. Yet, it is the word, and the only word, fit to describe this wonderful picture which has lost not a single quality in its transposition to the screen from Sinclair Lewis' novel of the same name.

"Main Street" is the story of Carol Kennicott and her brave but pathetic efforts to make Gopher Prairie a better place to live in. She is filled with ideas she wishes to put into practice. The inhabitants do not sympathize with her; even her husband, Dr. Kennicott, is too engrossed in his medical practice to further his wife's plan.

In despair, she finds her only ally in Erik Valborg, a young idealist. Two things happen: tongues begin wagging maliciously, and Erik finds himself so hopelessly in love with Carol that he wants her to elope. These situations bring on the dramatic climax to the picture.

WORLD COURT WEEK

THE organized churches of America, through the several organizations whose purpose is the promotion of peace in the world, have set aside the week of November 5-10 as World Court Week, and Sunday, November 11, as World Court Sunday.

These organizations call upon the 150,000 churches in America to stress the World court in their meetings during the week and on Armistice day. The churches are asked to bring their influence to bear upon congress with a view to securing favorable action on the World court.

That the churches who have membership and representation in these peace organizations are as enthusiastic for the World court as those who represent them in the organizations does not appear from the report of the National Council of Congregational churches, held recently, in which the World court and its purpose were not mentioned while the council went on record as favoring participation in the League of Nations. Opinion on this matter is not unanimous in the churches, nor is this to be expected.

Americans today are divided into three groups with regard to America's relations with Europe. There are those who believe that this country should enter the League of Nations, and the number of these is much larger than it was four years ago; there are others who think that America should in no way participate in the affairs of Europe but should attend strictly to her own business; while another group, which would not ask that this country enter the League of Nations, feels that by entering the World court, America could be kept free from the political upheavals of Europe, but could at the same time, by accepting a place in the Court of International Justice, further the processes of peace.

Those who divide on this issue should not be harshly judged by other groups. There are men who conscientiously believe that American participation in the politics of Europe would be dangerous and that America might be involved in some war because of such intervention, there are others who conclude that America will not play her part in the world's life until she enters the League of Nations and with the other nations attempts to perfect that instrument by removing its present defects and making it the medium through which the will of the peoples shall find expression. Yet others refuse to stand with either of these groups and believe that through a court which seeks to build up a system of international law America can best serve the world.

This divided sentiment may prohibit America's entrance into either the court or an association of nations. Those who think that the court is too limited in its sway demand whole-hearted entrance into an association of nations and deplore the attitude of those who seek to hold America apart from the rest of the world; while those who would go into Europe, intent upon merging American interests with those of other peoples, are inclined to think that the court cannot accomplish much of anything and that it is an unfortunate proposal because it may take the place of a more far-reaching policy. And, of course, there are very many who think that America can best serve the world by standing independently and by dealing with such cases as may come before her government in the American spirit; while others, who are joined with the irreconcilables, are with them for selfish reasons and because they are unwilling to take any risks in common with other peoples in attempting to adjust problems and conserve the ends of peace.

Part of the opposition to the World court or to entrance into an association or league of nations comes from the conviction that some men hold which makes them repudiate as silly all idealism looking to a warless world. "Wars must be," they claim, and without realizing that many things are, not because they must be, but because the people do not seek to prevent them, they are prepared to sit still and wait until the next war engulfs the world. Men cannot prevent earthquakes because they are outside of the volitional activities of men, but wars are willed by men or, if not willed by men, the wills of men have not been deliberately turned towards preventing them. All that is necessary is that a sufficient number of such men should will the end of war and war would be ended. To say that it must be is a confession of defeat and a philosophy of despair.

"ONE MISSES THE DEAD"

SOME time ago the president of Oglethorpe University at Atlanta, Georgia, requested that the body of General Oglethorpe who founded the state of Georgia might be removed from where it lies buried in England to the campus of the university. This request resulted in a storm of protest not only from the English press but also from American newspapers, the New York World describing it as "body-snatching" and an "advertising stunt." Lord Curzon suggested that a society for the protection of the dead was becoming a requirement of the time.

The wave of protest led to the president of the university withdrawing his request, as the expressions of disapproval at both sides of the Atlantic proved that both in America and England there is objection to such plans.

The emphasis given to such values—values accruing from possession of the dead might be capitalized by the English people. One might expect to find English guide books calling attention to the fact that some man who founded an American state is buried at a certain place. Georgia people visiting England would be expected to flock to the place where General Oglethorpe lies buried and the people from Pennsylvania to the tomb of William Penn, founder of the state of Pennsylvania.

If this happens, and the dead are used to attract tourists, or the English people form a corporation to dispose of the dead to those who want them and at the best possible price, the suggestion will have been born of such requests as that of which mention has been made. And if they do they will be doing nothing more reprehensible than that which is done by those who put so much value on dead bodies; paganism has surely had a marked effect upon those who are nominally Christian. Christianity is not interested in dead bodies, or, if it is, it is not Christian. But people don't overcome the influence of the dead past. Bodies are but dust and all that the university in Atlanta would have conveyed over the Atlantic would have been a handful of earth.

RED CROSS PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

Over $2,000,000 in Fund for War Sufferers—National Budget Is $5,543,077.

AID TO VETERANS

STANDS FIRST

Expended $9,738,448 in Services to Mankind Last Year at Home and Abroad.

Washington.—With a budget of $5,543,077.81 for carrying out the program of service during the current fiscal year, beginning July 1, the American Red Cross announces that this amount was $4,195,370.41 less than was expended during the fiscal year ended last June 30. During that year expenditures reached a total of $9,738,448.22, of which amount $2,605,696.09 was devoted to relief of refugees in Greece who had been driven out of Asia Minor. In announcing the budget for the year, the statement from National Headquarters emphasized the fact that its extensive work at home and abroad depends almost wholly upon the nation-wide support of the organization through enrollment of membership in large numbers during the annual roll call, which will be in progress from November 11 to November 29 under the auspices of the 3,600 Chapters in the United States and throughout the world. These Chapters, it is pointed out, during the last fiscal year expended of their own funds approximately $3,920,000 in work for the men who wore the United States uniform during the World War, so that the estimate of some $15,000,000 expended during twelve months by the American Red Cross as a whole is considered conservative.

Soldier Service Stands First

From July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1923, the American Red Cross spent nationally and through its Chapters close to $164,000,000 in behalf of American soldiers who served in the war and their families. During last year the figure alone amounted to more than $5,826,255, and for the current fiscal year National Headquarters has set aside under the heading, "Assistance to Disabled ex-Service Men and Women," $2,065,834.20. The Chapters will continue to do their part, so that it may be predicted with confidence that again more than $5,500,000 will be disbursed in the large variety of services to the disabled men and women and their families—services for which the Government cannot provide and which reach the individual case with the sympathy and understanding only actual contact can insure. This work of the American Red Cross approaches the fifth anniversary of the Armistice, which ended the World War with only slight decrease in calls for service in the interest of the welfare and rehabilitation of those who suffered physical disability in the service of their country.

In the interest of the enlisted men serving in the Army and the Navy the budget provides $309,020 for the current year. This is obligatory under the Red Cross charter, for the organization must act in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people and their Army and Navy.

Domestic Program Extensive

The domestic operations of the American Red Cross comprise an accurate indicator of the continuing calls for expansion in all the established and authorized services. The budget aggregates $4,636,449.70, as against expenditures during the last year of $4,452,066.20. The abnormal demands in the foreign field in the last several years, however, have largely subsided, and in consequence $906,628.11 has been set for the 1923-24 budget under foreign operations. On this amount $294,303.91 is set aside for engagements which will close the work for the refugees in Greece, for whose amelioration $2,605,696.09 was expended up to June 30, when the American Red Cross withdrew, and the work was taken over under the control of the Greek government. For liquidation and completion of general relief in Europe the budget provides $100,000, and for American Junior Red Cross projects, foreign and insular, and assistance to Chapters listed under foreign operations.

Ready for Emergency Calls

The readiness of the American Red Cross to answer immediately with effective service in cases of emergency is an outstanding feature of its program that is universally recognized. During last year $525,000 was spent for relief in 110 disasters, which was $207,500 in excess of budget provisions. This year $400,000 has been appropriated for this service. Since 1881 the Red Cross has administered more than $20,000,000 in relief work following disasters.

Other budget items in the schedule for domestic operations include $1,282,524.20 for service and assistance to the 3,600 Chapters and their Branches; $80,000 for assistance to other organizations, particularly stressing child health activities; $194,000 for Junior Red Cross projects and service; $10,824.20 for assistance to Nurses' Training Schools, and for other activities $111,456.80. For supervision of service activities and general management of the entire American Red Cross less than $225,000 is allotted

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1923

WORLD COURT WEEK

THE organized churches of America, through the several organizations whose purpose is the promotion of peace in the world, have set aside the week of November 5-10 as World Court Week, and Sunday, November 11, as World Court Sunday.

These organizations call upon the 150,000 churches in America to stress the World court in their meetings during the week and on Armistice day. The churches are asked to bring their influence to bear upon congress with a view to securing favorable action on the World court.

That the churches who have membership and representation in these peace organizations are as enthusiastic for the World court as those who represent them in the organizations does not appear from the report of the National Council of Congregational churches, held recently, in which the World court and its purpose were not mentioned while the council went on record as favoring participation in the League of Nations. Opinion on this matter is not unanimous in the churches, nor is this to be expected.

Americans today are divided into three groups with regard to America's relations with Europe. There are those who believe that this country should enter the League of Nations, and the number of these is much larger than it was four years ago; there are others who think that America should in no way participate in the affairs of Europe but should attend strictly to her own business; while another group, which would not ask that this country enter the League of Nations, feels that by entering the World court, America could be kept free from the political upheavals of Europe, but could at the same time, by accepting a place in the Court of International Justice, further the processes of peace.

Those who divide on this issue should not be harshly judged by other groups. There are men who conscientiously believe that American participation in the politics of Europe would be dangerous and that America might be involved in some war because of such intervention, there are others who conclude that America will not play her part in the world's life until she enters the League of Nations and with the other nations attempts to perfect that instrument by removing its present defects and making it the medium through which the will of the peoples shall find expression. Yet others refuse to stand with either of these groups and believe that through a court which seeks to build up a system of international law America can best serve the world.

This divided sentiment may prohibit America's entrance into either the court or an association of nations. Those who think that the court is too limited in its sway demand whole-hearted entrance into an association of nations and deplore the attitude of those who seek to hold America apart from the rest of the world; while those who would go into Europe, intent upon merging American interests with those of other peoples, are inclined to think that the court cannot accomplish much of anything and that it is an unfortunate proposal because it may take the place of a more far-reaching policy. And, of course, there are very many who think that America can best serve the world by standing independently and by dealing with such cases as may come before her government in the American spirit; while others, who are joined with the irreconcilables, are with them for selfish reasons and because they are unwilling to take any risks in common with other peoples in attempting to adjust problems and conserve the ends of peace.

Part of the opposition to the World court or to entrance into an association or league of nations comes from the conviction that some men hold which makes them repudiate as silly all idealism looking to a warless world. "Wars must be," they claim, and without realizing that many things are, not because they must be, but because the people do not seek to prevent them, they are prepared to sit still and wait until the next war engulfs the world. Men cannot prevent earthquakes because they are outside of the volitional activities of men, but wars are willed by men or, if not willed by men, the wills of men have not been deliberately turned towards preventing them. All that is necessary is that a sufficient number of such men should will the end of war and war would be ended. To say that it must be a confession of defeat and a philosophy of despair.

"ONE MISSES THE DEAD"

SOME time ago the president of Oglethorpe University at Atlanta, Georgia, requested that the body of General Oglethorpe who founded the state of Georgia might be removed from where it lies buried in England to the campus of the university. This request resulted in a storm of protest not only from the English press but also from American newspapers, the New York World describing it as "body-snatching" and an "advertising stunt." Lord Curzon suggested that a society for the protection of the dead was becoming a requirement of the time.

The wave of protest led to the president of the university withdrawing his request, as the expressions of disapproval at both sides of the Atlantic proved that both in America and England there is objection to such plans.

HOUSE HUNTING

IN LOS ANGELES

Dr. Grace Williams Races on Foot With a Packard and is First to Rent a Home

COMPETITOR'S CAR OVERHEATED

Dr. Roy Williams Sat Up All Night to Retain Tenancy of the Premises Acquired

In this letter Dr. Roy Williams writes his mother a graphic description of the desperate means required to secure a residence in the city of Los Angeles.

At last we have a house, such as it is, in Los Angeles, a little three room house with a sleeping porch. We have a big yard with oaks and flowers of all kinds, climbing roses all over the front and one side of the place. We also have a chicken run and a little coop and four old hens, so you see we are all set.

We are going to put in our garden this week. Don't it seem funny to plant this time of the year? I bet it will get covered with snow don't you?

Vegetables are so cheap here that it won't pay to raise much, but I want to do it for the fun in it. We get our water free if we will keep up the lawn and flowers, so you bet we will do it.

We had great hunting trying to get a house. I never saw the like, almost as good hunting as I ever had in Minnesota. Papers are published twice a day here. We would get one, find some houses for rent and start out after them. The owners would see us coming and they would hide their sign and run for the cellar. At least we began to think they did. We did this for three weeks before we got this house.

Dozens of times we were a half second late and hundreds of times we were one hour too late. The renters standing guard over their prizes, did not dare to leave, for fear some one would get in on them. It was nothing to see a dozen cars at a time after one house. When we got in here I sat on the porch and swelled out my chest and when a car would drive up, I would wave my hand and say "Too bad, old kid, I beat you to it," and half the night I had to holler out the window, "It's rented."

Grace was afoot when she heard of this place and she ran a race with a fellow in a Packard. He held his own until the engine overheated. Then on the last four miles she gained enough on him to have the first payment down before he got in. Now if you think that is stretching it, ask Grace.

We went up town the other night

Keats Hard to Appreciate.

He is not a poet easily appreciated, he does not appeal to the young; this is because of the extraordinary finish and fullness of his lines, which demand constant effort of imagination and fancy to read correctly; there is, moreover, scarcely any story in the larger part of his works. He did not give us anything new in the way of form. The secret of his power lies in his quality—sonorousness of phrase, splendor of color, and a sort of divine intuition in choice of words. He did this by studying and absorbing the best work of his contemporaries and fusing them together in a new form of expression. He summarized and utilized all the forces of the moment, and so taught the generations after him how to do the same thing. He was especially the eclectic poet of his time; he had the Greek gift of lucidity.—Lafayette Kearn.

Even Gypsies Changing.

To defend her race from the charge that they are "ugly, dirty, half idiotic," Anella Smith, a gypsy princess, has written the first genuine Romany letter to appear in the English newspapers. She is a gifted woman, deeply versed in Borrow gypsy lore, and claiming descent from the Petulengo family, mentioned in Borrow's books, which to gypsies is what Norman blood is to the aristocratic English families. "Princess" Smith contends that real gypsies are handsome, clean, as clever as their critics, and gives evidence that the mysterious vagabond race is changing its traditional habits under the influence of the modern thirst for knowledge. Nowadays in gypsy camps here, her letter continues, it is not unusual to find the mother squatting beside her caravan teaching the swarthy brood of children to read and write.

Thought He Got Off Lightly.

The town bum had been arrested on suspicion, as he always was when a minor crime had been committed in Hickville. On the most recent occasion Zeke was defended by a young lawyer who was making his maiden speech. The case was lost and Zeke was sentenced to ten days and fined ten dollars. "Thanks, Mr. Judge," said Zeke with a relieved countenance and better courtroom presence than was usual. "Thank me," bellowed the judge, suspecting sarcasm. "What do you thank me for?" But Zeke was innocent of witticism. "I sure thought my character and that boy's pleadin' would hang me."

Computing Relative Humidity.

To obtain the relative humidity from readings of the wet and dry thermometers, it is necessary to have the reading of a very accurate barometer. In order to know the air pressure. However, it would be a great waste of time to have to compute the relative humidity for each test when a set of psychrometric tables can be obtained from the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C., for 10 cents.

COMPETITOR'S CAR OVERHEATED

Dr. Roy Williams Sat Up All Night to Retain Tenancy of the Premises Acquired

In this letter Dr. Roy Williams writes his mother a graphic description of the desperate means required to secure a residence in the city of Los Angeles.

At last we have a house, such as it is, in Los Angeles, a little three-room house with a sleeping porch. We have a big yard with oceans of flowers of all kinds, climbing roses, all over the front and one side of the place. We also have a chicken run and a little coop and four old hens, so you see we are all set.

We are going to put in our garden this week. Don't it seem funny to plant this time of the year? I bet it will get covered with snow don't you?

Vegetables are so cheap here that it won't pay to raise much, but I want to do it for the fun in it. We get our water free if we will keep up the lawn and flowers, so you bet we will do it.

We had great hunting trying to get a house. I never saw the like, almost as good hunting as I ever had in Minnesota. Papers are published twice a day here. We would get one, find some houses for rent and start out after them. The owners would see us coming and they would hide their sign and run for the cellar. At least we began to think they did. We did this for three weeks before we got this house.

Dozens of times we were a half second late and hundreds of times we were one hour too late. The renters standing guard over their prizes, did not dare to leave, for fear some one would get in on them. It was nothing to see a dozen cars at a time after one house. When we got in here I sat on the porch and swelled out my chest and when a car would drive up, I would wave my hand and say "Too bad, old kid, I beat you to it," and half the night I had to holler out the window, "It's rented."

Grace was afoot when she heard of this place and she ran a race with a fellow in a Packard. He held his own, until the engine overheated. Then on the last four miles she gained enough on him to have the first payment down before he got in. Now if you think that is stretching it, ask Grace.

We went up town the other night

Keats Hard to Appreciate.

He is not a poet easily appreciated, he does not appeal to the young; this is because of the extraordinary finish and fullness of his lines, which demand constant effort of imagination and fancy to read correctly; there is, moreover, scarcely any story in the larger part of his works. He did not give us anything new in the way of form. The secret of his power lies in his quality—sonorousness of phrase, splendor of color, and a sort of divine intuition in choice of words. He did this by studying and absorbing the best work of his contemporaries and fusing them together in a new form of expression. He summarized and utilized all the forces of the moment, and so taught the generations after him how to do the same thing. He was especially the eclectic poet of his time; he had the Greek gift of lucidity.—Lafayette

Even Gypsies Changing.

To defend her race from the charge that they are "ugly, dirty, half idiotic," Cecelia Smith, a gypsy princess, has written the first genuine Romany letter to appear in the English newspapers. She is a gifted woman, deeply versed in borrow gypsy lore, and claiming descent from the Petenro family, mentioned in Borrow's books, which to gypsies is what Norman blood is to the aristocratic English families. "Princess" Smith contends that real gypsies are handsome, clean, as clever as their critics, and gives evidence that the mysterious vagabond race is changing its traditional habits under the influence of the modern thirst for knowledge. Nowadays in gypsy camps here, her letter continues, it is not unusual to find the mother squatting beside her caravan teaching the swarthy brood of children to read and write.

Thought He Got Off Lightly.

The town bum had been arrested on suspicion, as he always was when a minor crime had been committed in Hickville. On the most recent occasion Zeke was defended by a young lawyer who was making his maiden speech. The case was lost and Zeke was sentenced to ten days and fined ten dollars. "Thanks, Mr. Judge," said Zeke with a relieved countenance and better courtroom presence than was usual. "Thank me," belowered the judge, suspecting sarcasm. "What do you thank me for?" But Zeke was innocent of witticism. "I sure thought my character and that boy's pleadin' would hang me."

Computing Relative Humidity.

To obtain the relative humidity from readings of the wet and dry thermometers, it is necessary to have the reading of a very accurate barometer, in order to know the air pressure. However, it would be a great waste of time to have to compute the relative humidity for each test when a set of psychrometric tables can be obtained from the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington, D. C., for 10 cents.

DAIRY

Best Feed Is Essential

Even With Dairy Cows

The best results from dairying follow the combination of good cows and the right feeds. Without a correctly balanced ration even a good cow cannot yield profitable returns. Because of this fact the dairy specialists at the Missouri College of Agriculture are able to put dollars into the pockets of the dairymen who will apply their recommendations.

"Profitable production in dairying must begin with the feed," says E. M. Harmon, extension dairy specialist. "Without the right feeds no animal can make milk and butterfat efficiently, no matter what her breeding. It is essential to have balance in the ration. The cow's body and her product—milk—are both made up primarily of four kinds of constituents: Water, protein, carbohydrates (and fats), and mineral matter.

"The water supply is of utmost importance. As a general rule the mineral requirements will be satisfied if plenty of legume hays are fed. This leaves the protein and carbohydrate requirements to be satisfied. Either of these cannot replace the other any more than the air in an automobile tire can replace the gasoline in the tank.

"Some feeds are high in protein while others are high in carbohydrates. If we feed more of one than necessary to balance with the other the excess will simply go to waste. For instance an average farm ration of 25 pounds of corn silage, 8 pounds timothy hay, 4 pounds of corn chop and 1 pound of wheat bran supplies enough carbohydrates to maintain the body requirements of a 1,000-pound cow, and produce 20 pounds of milk. It supplies only enough protein however, to produce 4 pounds of milk after maintaining the body.

"By substituting a legume hay for the timothy; adding a pound of cottonseed meal and a pound of bran and reducing the corn chop to 3 pounds we get a ration that will supply just the right amounts of both protein and carbohydrates to maintain the cow's body and produce 20 pounds of milk."

Dairy Farmers See Need of Well Built Ice House

The dairy farmers who smile during the hot days are those who had the foresight to lay in a supply of ice last winter.

Many other dairymen now see the advantage of having a large, cheap supply of ice to keep their milk cooled and are therefore thinking of erecting their own icehouses. A good house can be built on the following plan, says E. R. Gross, professor of rural engineering at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture:

The floor should be pebbles or gravel to afford drainage. The foundation of masonry or concrete should extend well into the ground and the capacity of the house will be increased if the floor is placed at the bottom of the foundation. Make the foundation 9 to 12 inches thick. Use 2 by 8-inch studding, with sheathing, building paper and weather boarding outside. Sheathing alone on the inside will make a good house, but it is still better if the inside wall is constructed of two layers of boarding—sheathing against the studding, and the sheathing covered with tongued-and-grooved boarding, with a layer of paper in between. An ordinary shingle roof left open at the eaves and with a ventilator at the ridge completes the building.

One and one-half to two tons of ice is needed for each cow. One ton occupies 50 cubic feet.

The packing of the ice is probably the most important of the things to be observed in ice storage. The ice must be cut evenly so it will pack closely, and crevices should be filled with chipped ice. The ice block, if properly packed, is practically one solid mass of ice. On top, bottom and all sides of the ice, pack not less than 12 inches of sawdust, chopped straw or other insulating material.

Income From Hogs.

Waiting the summer and early fall farrowed pigs, with a view to adding 100 pounds to their January weight and selling during late March at a weight of 200 pounds or better assures an income at a time when farm receipts are light and the price for hogs usually good.

Three Hog Essentials.

Good judgment, a fertile soil and labor are three essentials to success in raising hogs. Omit any one of these and the venture will stand up like a three-legged stool with a leg missing.

Get Rid of Culls.

Cull out those that show signs of ailment and disease. Get rid of them.

Cost to Feed Mongrels.

It does not cost any more to feed pure breeds than it does the mongrel or mixed type. In the case of the mongrels there is no uniformity in size, shape or color of the eggs and they will never bring a premium for hatching purposes, as do the eggs of pure breeds.

Mash for Young Ducks.

Young ducks should be fed a mash without the grain ration until they are well matured. An important part of the ration is a good grit.

Princess Says Sister Stole Husband's Love

New York, Nov. 2.—Prince Nicholas Von der Lippe-Lipski, who claims he is directly descended from King Simon VI of Westphalia, has succeeded to the charms of his wife's sister, according to an affidavit filed in the county clerk's office by the Princess Von der Lippe-Lipski, who before her marriage to the prince was Mrs. Wendell Phillips.

The prince and Mrs. Phillips were married by civil ceremony Sept. 15, 1922, and by religious ceremony May 12 of this year, they announced June 16 last.

The princess charges her titled husband's affections have been alienated by her own sister, Mrs. Gertrude Schroeder, a widow and reputed wealthy. She asks $100,000.

LOST HAND IN A CORN SHREDDER

Clinton Wheeler, Son of Carl Wheeler is Victim of Unfortunate Accident

HAPPENED AT BOURASSA FARM

Brother Clarence Makes Heroic Effort to Save Injured Boy

Clinton Wheeler, son of Carl Wheeler, living south west of Brainerd, had the misfortune of losing his left hand in a corn shredder, while shredding corn at the Bourassa farm late Thursday afternoon.

The young man was hurried to Northwestern hospital where everything possible was done to save a part of the hand, but it was found necessary to amputate it at the wrist. Reports from the hospital this afternoon are to the effect that he is resting easier today, although very weak from the loss of blood.

The story of a heroic effort to avert the tragedy is attached to this accident. Clinton's brother Clarence was also working on the shredder, and saw the hand caught. He at once threw himself into the drive belt that connects the engine with the shredder, thus forcing it from the drive pulley and stopping the machinery.

If this had not been done, there is little doubt but that Wheeler's entire arm would have been mangled.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Given by Business & Professional Women's Club Wednesday Evening a Great Success

That the Halloween party given by the Business and Professional Women's club Wednesday evening at the rooms of the Civic & Commerce Association was a great success everyone within a block of the scene of festivities will agree.

Clever invitations bade the members assemble for the yearly frolic, and those who responded, a goodly number, were put through a third degree of black magic that changed them in a twinkling from sober business girls to weird sisters of voodooism. Silent, ghostly figures in trailing white robes escorted the guests through the hallway. Fantastic masks and noise-making instruments were provided and thus equipped, they were ushered into the reception rooms, joining others in old-fashioned games and dances.

The peak of the evening's entertainment was reached when all took their places in a grand march. The motley crowd pranced 'round the room to doleful music, which was soon drowned out by the noise of the merry-makers. The leader, a "regular devil" in bright red, carried a glowing bowl from which incense escaped, while following her came four ghosts bearing a swathed figure in white. Blood-curdling groans from the recumbent figure sent quavering chills down sundry backbones, but when the lights were flashed on the smiling countenance of Sal Shellin peered from the improvised bier.

The grand march broke up in a gay Virginia reel, after which refreshments of frappe and wafers, and shiner red apples were served by the entertainment committee. The success of the party was due to this committee, Mabel Sheffield, chairman, assisted by May Hurley, Bess Murphy, Ida Ordahl, Irene Turcotte, Sal Shellin, and Eula Michael, and they were showered with appreciation.

After such a hilarious evening the tired cornstalks, shocked at the "going on," sagged in their corners, and low candles sputtered wearily in empty Jack O'Lanterns. Discarded masks and silent bells and horns lay on the floor, but gay voices and happy laughter echoed through the rooms as the merry horde departed at a late hour.

Cooperation is no empty phrase with the members of the Civic and Commerce Association, and the courtesy of offering the use of their club rooms on this occasion is very much appreciated by the Business & Professional Women's club.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORY OF TODAY

Bill Turcotte, John Kregelberg, Jim Cleary and Fremont Turcotte have returned from a hunting trip in the Bowstring country. They carried a lot of supplies with them, but managed to make a camp near a farm house where they secured such good board that they touched very little of their own supplies.

Eber Baker and Al Ebert were hunting near Blackduck.

It was Al's first experience as a duck hunter. Al plumped through the ice twice and shoved up the shore ice, for he registered some displacement.

In other words, as Eber said, Al took to the water like a duck.

MRS. FRANK FULLER HURT

Fell From a Window Sill in Odd Fellow Hall and is Believed to Have Broken Ribs

Mrs. Frank Fuller, 714 North Ninth street was severely injured Thursday afternoon when she fell from a window sill, where she was standing, to the floor in the I. O. O. F. hall.

The Rebekah club held a Halloween party in the hall on Wednesday evening, and Mrs. Fuller was engaged in taking down the decorations. She stepped to a window sill to reach some streamers, it is said, and slipped, falling to the floor.

She struck against the arm of a heavy chair in the fall, and it is feared sustained several broken ribs.

NOVEMBER TERM COURT CALENDAR

Discloses a Heavy Grist of Cases, Both in Civil and Criminal Actions

COURT OPEN TUESDAY, NOV. 6

Program for Naturalization Day is in Hands of the Boy Scout Council

The calendar for the November term of the district court has been completed, and discloses a heavy grist of cases, both in civil and criminal actions.

There are on the calendar sixty-three civil cases, approximately fifty personal tax cases, seven criminal appeal cases and thirty-three other criminal cases.

Court opens on Tuesday, November 6th, that day being given over to the grand jury.

On Wednesday, November 7th, applicants for naturalization will be examined, there being thirty-four appealing for citizenship.

The program for naturalization day is in the hands of the Boy Scout Council, assisted by the American Legion. The beautiful silk flag recently purchased by the Legion will be displayed in the court room. Scouts in uniform will act as ushers and in any other capacity that may be required.

A luncheon will be served to the newly-made citizens after the program.

R. K. Doe, examiner in charge of naturalization in this district, has this to say concerning the citizenship program:

"The government is very much in favor of having citizenship conferred with a certain amount of ceremony. The applicants as well as the community should be made to realize the importance of the same."

"In the interest of uniformity of these ceremonies, the following details are suggested:

(A) There should always be a flag over the judge's chair in the court room.

(B) The ceremony should commence by singing of "America," first and last verse. If school is in session, the civic class should be invited to head in the singing.

(C) Then should come the examination.

(D) An address by the judge or the examiner.

(E) The oath of allegiance.

(F) Singing of the first verse of "Star Spangled Banner."

It is the intention of the committee in charge of Wednesday's program to follow this outline as closely as possible, in an effort to make the new citizens realize the responsibility of their oath, and to instill a desire to give loyal allegiance to their foster country.

The petit jury cases will begin on Thursday, November 8th, and continue until all are disposed of.

MISS THYBERG DIED

Passed Away Thursday Afternoon at the Home of Her Niece, Mrs. J. Erickson

Miss Christine Thyberg died Thursday afternoon at 4:30 at the home of her niece, Mrs. J. Erickson, of Nokay Lake township, death being caused from complications.

Miss Thyberg was born in Sweden, December 12th, 1846, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sven Thyberg. She has made her home at Brainerd for some time with her niece, the only relative in this country.

The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the home of her niece, Mrs. Jonas Erickson, Rev. A. Samuelson of the Clara Lutheran church officiating. Interment will be made in the Nokay lake cemetery.

Heavy Snowfalls

At some places in the Sierra Nevada and the Cascade mountains from 30 to 40 feet of snow falls during the winter months. At Summit, Cal., which has an elevation of about 7,000 feet, there has been recorded 60 feet of snow in a single season and about 25 feet in a single month.

NOTICE

Officers and members of United Order of Americans (nee Foresters) are most urgently requested to attend the special meeting in K. C. hall Friday evening 8 o'clock, Nov. 2nd. State President Minnie M. Plank, also Judge Schoonmaker of St. Paul will conduct the initiation of a class of new members. Refreshments and entertainment follow the meeting. By order

RED BUS LINE ENTERS BRAINERD

Takes Over From Jefferson Highway Co., Minneapolis, Little Falls, Brainerd Run

JEFFERSON ON ANOTHER ROUTE

President Bryant and Zelle, of Jefferson and Red Bus Lines, in the City Today

The Red bus line which has been operating some two years from Minneapolis to Little Falls, St. Cloud, Sauk Center and Wadena, has arranged to cooperate with the Jefferson Highway Transportation company in order to facilitate better service to the public, and will hereafter operate the Minneapolis, St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd division.

The Jefferson Highway company, on the other hand, will transfer its equipment used on the Brainerd route to the Sauk Center and Wadena division formerly served by the Red bus line.

The Red bus line has made a slight change in schedule effective Monday, November 5th. The first bus will leave at 9:45 A. M., followed by others at 12:45, 3:15 P. M. and 5:45 P. M. Other changes can be gained by the reader in the advertisement running in this issue of the paper.

Four round trips will be made daily to the Twin Cities. Bus headquarters are at the Ramsford hotel, and at the Union bus depot in Minneapolis. The reduction in fares recently announced by the Jefferson Highway company will continue in effect.

The Brainerd situation was considered of such importance that it brought to the city two presidents of the bus companies, E. L. Bryant of the Jefferson Highway company, and Edgar F. Zelle, of the Red bus line. Both are residents of Minneapolis.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL ON THE 30-YARD LINE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 2.—Rounding into the three-quarter stretch, the major football eleven approaches that annual stage of the journey tomorrow, where hope begins to fall down under feet and where castles are kicked for goals. After more than a half season, which was more or less of a trial journey for the last hard drive, the big teams start tomorrow to dive in and hit low for the falls that sound the loudest.

Many hopes for championship ratings are bound to explode tomorrow, where there is much competition as will be provided on this card:

Army vs. Yale	Colgate vs. Navy
Syracuse vs. Penn State	Notre Dame vs. Purdue
Pittsburgh vs. Pennsylvania	Chicago vs. Illinois
Washington & Jefferson vs. Lafayette	Michigan vs. Iowa
Cornell vs. Dartmouth	Georgia Tech vs. Alabama

All of the pile of talent must survive, and the dying stands of those which start to fall ought to provide the greatest battles of the year.

For three years Yale has been threatening to return to its former domain, where the Elis ruled the football universe and Yale has had reasons to believe this fall that the time has arrived.

So far the Elis had no chance to show anything but potential greatness against outclassed opponents, but when the Cadets journey from West Point, Yale will find as tough a team to beat as can be found on the eastern gridiron.

Considered as the most powerful team in the east at the start of the season, the Cadets hit a bump when Notre Dame beat them, but the Cadets surely learned enough in that game to have been improved, even if at such a cost.

Not only does the Yale-Army game provide the biggest prospect of the day, but it will furnish one of the year's prefiest spectacles. The Army team will be accompanied by the entire Cadet Corps. One who has never seen the West Pointers do their stunts in the great Yale bowl cannot have a satisfactory word picture of it painted for him.

MINNESOTA HAS EDGE ON NORTHWESTERN

Northwestern will be at her full strength Saturday when she faces Minnesota in the 12th, setto between the two universities. The attitude of the Gophers and coaches has changed considerably since the first of the week. Northwestern, with crimples returning, is going to be a better eleven than the one that was trampled by Illinois last Saturday. Minnesota has been hampered by injuries.

Minnesota will be out to avenge the 7 to 7 of last season, when "Chuck" Palmer picked up a fumble and raced the length of the field. In the eleven games played, Northwestern has only won twice, and tied once. The record of the Northwestern-Minnesota games:

1922—Minnesota, 16; Northwestern, 0.
1892—Minnesota, 16; Northwestern, 0.
1898—Minnesota, 17; Northwestern, 6.
1899—Minnesota, 5; Northwestern, 11.
1900—Minnesota, 21; Northwestern, 0.
1901—Minnesota, 16; Northwestern, 0.
1904—Minnesota, 17; Northwestern, 0.
1905—Minnesota, 72; Northwestern, 6.
1920—Minnesota, 0; Northwestern, 17.
1921—Minnesota, 28; Northwestern, 0.
1922—Minnesota, 7; Northwestern, 7.

RUMORS OF HORNSBY TRADE ARE CURRENT

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Unconfirmed rumors were in circulation here that the New York Giants have offered to trade Jack Bentley, pitcher, and Shortstop Jackson for Rogers Hornsby, star second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals and premier batter of the National league.

The rumors followed a conference here yesterday between Dick Kinsella, scout for the Giants, and Sam Bredon, president of the St. Louis Nationals. While neither Bredon nor Kinsella could be reached for a statement, Branch Rickey, manager of the Cardinals, who did not attend the conference, said it was useless to deny that Kinsella's purpose in coming to St. Louis was to try to obtain Hornsby for the Giants.

Rickey stated, however, that he did not believe any trade was discussed yesterday as he declared Bredon usually consulted him about such matters.

U. S. Won't Be Able To Muster Strength For Olympic Rowing

New York, Nov. 2.—America probably will not be able to muster its full strength for the Olympic rowing championships at Paris next year as a result of the French Olympic Committee's refusal to accept the American Olympic committee's request for a postponement of several weeks.

The original date set for rowing, July 10 to 14, seven weeks earlier than these events were held in the 1920 Olympics, conflicted with the important rowing fixtures in this country, out of which it was expected material would be drawn for international competition. These included the intercollegiate regattas, to be held the latter part of June, and the national regatta usually held in August.

In addition Jack Kelly of Philadelphia, who won the single sculls title in 1920, and his partner in the doubles championship, Paul Costello, have declared they probably would not be prepared to defend their laurels on the dates fixed.

ONE MORE RACE TO DECIDE ISSUE

(By United Press)
Halifax, N. S., Nov. 2.—Canada has not yet won the international fisherman's trophy signifying the speed champion of the north Atlantic fishing waters.

The champion Blue Nose after finishing well ahead of the American challenger Columbia in yesterday's race, was disqualified by the race committee late last night. The Columbia was declared winner of the second race because the Blue Nose failed to pass a buoy to seaward as provided in the special rules promulgated after the first race.

The third and deciding race will be sailed tomorrow.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOXER MAY GO BACK TO CLASS

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—Fernal Ruffles, who forsook Sunday school teaching and choir directing in Hanford, Calif., for a career as a pugilist, was knocked out on his first appearance in a San Francisco ring. Ted Snyder, who describes himself as a heavyweight champion of the Marines, dealt the sleep producer in the final frame of a four round main event.

Minnesota Favored To Beat Northwestern

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Nov. 2.—By virtue of an unexpected showing against Wisconsin last week, Minnesota was favored today to beat Northwestern tomorrow.

Northwestern has lost three conference games while Minnesota tied Wisconsin in the first and only conference game so far played.

That the purple has scoring ability is shown by the 27 they made in three starts against their opponents which totaled 55 points.

Minnesota has not demonstrated great scoring ability even against non-conference teams.

Landis Expected To Rule on Shocker Case

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, expressed the opinion that the difference between Urban Shocker, star twirler and officials of the local Americans was merely a matter between club and player, explaining he did not believe it was an issue that called for adjudication by Commissioner Landis.

Shocker has appealed to Landis to declare him a free agent as a result of his suspension for violating a club regulation. Shocker's lawyer stated he had received a letter from the commissioner saying the matter would be given consideration in the near future and said he took this as an indication that Landis would assume jurisdiction in the matter.

GUNMAN DIED WHEN PICKED UP

(By United Press)
Chicago, Nov. 2.—A youngster believed by police to be Fred Marjio, New York gunman, died in a Chicago hospital today from four bullet wounds shortly after he was picked up by an automobilist on the Lincoln highway, a short distance from Joliet.

Three cabaret girls were taken into custody for examination. In the man's pocket police found a letter he had written which he had not addressed. From its contents police believed it was intended for a girl named Mary living in Milwaukee.

POULTRY NOTES

The hen is the only thing on the farm that can make money by "just laying around."

Paint the outside of the hen house; make it look as though it belonged to somebody.

Much loss could be prevented if those engaged in the poultry business were to examine their flocks regularly for indications of disease of any character.

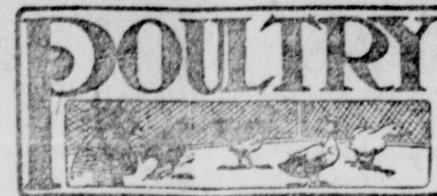

The white chicks that are somewhat dirty in color at time of hatching are the birds which turn out to be the best breeders at maturity.

Provide as much water per day as the poultry will drink. Keep all drinking vessels clean and scald them out frequently.

Don't overlook the value of feeding gritty substances to the poultry frequently. This performs the same mission for poultry that teeth do for men.

Early Molting Hens Are Poor Paying Proposition

What is the trouble with the poultry business? Why are fewer hens kept this year? Is the poultry business going backward? All these questions, and many more like them, have been asked recently.

What is the trouble with the poultry business? Would not any other business fail if it were conducted as the poultry business is conducted? Every female kept is not necessarily a good money maker. Some hens never lay. Some lay a few eggs. But it takes a hen that lays a good quantity of eggs to pay for her feed and return a fair profit above labor, interest, etc.

It has been proved beyond doubt that early molting hens are poor producers. Hens that begin to shed their feathers in July and August seldom start to lay before the latter part of January or the early part of February. Many poultrymen realize the necessity of culling out their poor producers in order to stay in the poultry business.

With the present prices of feed, it is absolutely essential that only the best hens be kept. One farmer last year selected from 500 laying hens 104 that he considered poor producers. No trap nests were used, but the hens were examined from external characteristics. These 104 hens were put in a house by themselves. The following day they laid four eggs.

The flock was again tested and the four layers were selected, leaving an even hundred unproductive hens. They were carefully watched for several weeks and did not lay an egg. At last they were sold. Similar instances prove that the selection of poultry pays. Why not save the tremendous amount of feed fed the poor hens and put it into better stock or human food?

Increase production and increase efficiency, by keeping the late molters. Hatch in September and thus increase the meat and egg supply of the country. Fall hatching of chickens will pay. Pullets from these hatches will take the place of the early molters disposed of. Breed only from the late molters. Selection is a big step toward greater poultry efficiency and to a more profitable poultry business.

Increasing Demand for Disliked Guinea Fowls

Guinea fowls, which have suffered unpopularity with farmers because of pronounced propensities for noise-making during the sleeping hours of humans, are likely to rise above this objection in view of a steadily increasing demand for their delicious flesh, in the opinion of a poultry specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture. Guinea-fowl raising now is a profitable side line on eastern farms and may offer opportunities to the commercial poultryman in a few cases. In Farmers' Bulletin 858, "The Guinea Fowl," the specialist discusses the guinea business from the starting of a flock to marketing the produce, which is largely meat.

Colony House System of Poultry Raising Favored

One of the many advantages of the colony house system of poultry raising is that the birds have ample opportunity to find animal food, such as bugs, worms, grasshoppers, etc. This is a very necessary part of the diet if you are raising poultry for the eggs they will produce. If you have movable houses for the flock, place them near fields likely to harbor destructive insects; this will protect the crop and at the same time provide the necessary animal food.

Junior Red Cross Spreads Good Will Throughout World

Nearly 5,000,000 pupils in the schools of America are following the standard of unselfish service as members of the American Junior Red Cross, the annual report of the American Red Cross discloses. This valiant host is represented in 125,072 school rooms of 24,289 schools throughout the United States. With a service program that is local, national and international in scope, the American Junior Red Cross is working unflinchingly for health and happiness and in the promotion of activities among boys and girls wherever there is opportunity for usefulness.

Increased activity on the part of the schools enrolled and deeper recognition by school authorities of the educational values of Junior Red Cross have been significant features of the last year. Carrying on educational and relief work in France, Poland, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria and Rumania, the American Juniors have influenced the forming of Junior departments in the Red Cross organizations of these countries. American boys and girls wearing the "I Serve" button of the Juniors are proving apt messengers of the spirit of good will and mutual understanding through correspondence with pupils in schools scattered throughout the world. At the close of the school year in June 2,099 schools were engaged in correspondence with a like number of schools in Europe; 234 schools in our insular possessions and Alaska territory carried on an exchange of letters with schools in the United States and South Africa. In fact, nearly 2,700 schools with probably 100,000 pupils were busy in this fine act of cheerful communication, while 8,347 articles passed through National Headquarters of the Red Cross in exchanges between the interested pupils here and overseas. An incident of the year's advance was the beginning of activity which will eventually install Junior Red Cross in the Indian schools of the United States.

From every section of the country reports of the tour of the unit of crippled children with their chorus which came from the Bakule school in Prague, Czechoslovakia, to show gratitude to the American Juniors for their assistance declare that nothing since the World War has done so much to awaken the Red Cross spirit in the communities visited by the unit.

The work of the American Juniors in foreign fields is emphasized in the advancement of playgrounds, scholarships in farm, trade and other schools, community and school garden work, and donations of cash and equipment to children's organizations. In these projects $112,650.17 was spent during the last year in ten European countries, in China and in the Virgin Islands.

"It is inconceivable that the Red Cross could have come thus far only to retreat; that it could have succeeded up to the present time only to fail."—President Coolidge.

Liberal to Ex-Service Men
Over $1,000 was expended by each of the 3,600 American Red Cross chapters in the past year in behalf of disabled ex-service men. The actual total spent was $3,930,000.

Eucalyptus Oil.
Eucalyptus oil comes from the blue gum or eucalyptus tree. Australia grows 120 varieties. It is an evergreen and grows to great heights. Probably the first eucalyptus trees imported into America are still growing in Alameda, California, the home of Bishop William Taylor. When the bishop went to Australia he was struck with the beauty of these trees, and in 1849 he sent some seeds home to his wife, who planted them in her green house. When the young trees were 18 inches high, they were transplanted outside. After two years, they were about five feet high and doing extremely well. The bishop was requested to send more seeds, which Mrs. Taylor promised to raise and give to the ranchers, explaining their merits. The wood is particularly hard, and when well seasoned, is excellent for furniture. When a eucalyptus tree is cut even to the ground, it will send out new shoots and grow again.

HEAD COLDS ENDED BY HEALING CREAM

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes and you get instant relief.

Try this. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up; your head is clear; no more yawning or snuffling. Count fifty. All the stuffiness, dryness, struggling for breath is gone. You feel fine.—Adv.

Macaroni At It's Best

KITCHEN BOUQUET, a purely vegetable product, is in almost every pantry. Housewives know it is the secret of making good gravies and soups, but KITCHEN BOUQUET is equally good in preparing many other dishes. Try your next dish of macaroni prepared this way—

BAKED MACARONI
1/2 package macaroni, broken in pieces
1 teaspoon salt
1 quart boiling water
1/2 cup grated cheese
1 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
Milk Butter

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender, drain and wash with cold water. Place one-third the cooked macaroni in buttered baking dish, dot with butter and sprinkle with grated cheese, then pour macaroni, butter and cheese until dish is full. Add Kitchen Bouquet to milk and pour this over the macaroni to nearly cover. Bake in medium hot oven a half hour, until nicely browned and serve immediately for dinner.

FOOTBALL ON THE 30-YARD LINE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 2.—Rounding into the three-quarter stretch, the major football eleven approach that annual stage of the journey tomorrow, where hope begins to fall down under feet and where castles are kicked for goals.

After more than a half season, which was more or less of a trial journey for the last hard drive, the big teams start tomorrow to dive in and hit low for the falls that sound the loudest.

Many hopes for championship ratings are bound to explode tomorrow, where there is much competition as will be provided on this card:

Army vs. Yale
Syracuse vs. Penn State
Pittsburgh vs. Pennsylvania
Washington & Jefferson vs. Lafayette
Cornell vs. Dartmouth

All of the pile of talent must survive, and the dying stands of those which start to fall ought to provide the greatest battles of the year.

For three years Yale has been threatening to return to its former domain, where the Elis ruled the football universe and Yale has had reasons to believe this fall that the time has arrived.

So far the Elis had no chance to show anything but potential greatness against outclassed opponents, but when the Cadets journey from West Point, Yale will find as tough a team to beat as can be found on the eastern gridiron.

Considered as the most powerful team in the east at the start of the season, the Cadets hit a bump when Notre Dame beat them, but the Cadets surely learned enough in that game to have been improved, even if at such a cost.

Not only does the Yale-Army game provide the biggest prospect of the day, but it will furnish one of the year's prettiest spectacles. The Army team will be accompanied by the entire Cadet Corps. One who has never seen the West Pointers do their stunts in the great Yale bowl cannot have a satisfactory word picture of it painted for him.

"It is inconceivable that the Red Cross could have come thus far only to retreat; that it could have succeeded up to the present time only to fail."—President Coolidge.

Liberal to Ex-Serve Men
Over $1,000 was expended by each of the 3,600 American Red Cross Chapters in the past year in behalf of disabled ex-servicemen. The actual total spent was $3,930,000.

Eucalyptus Oil.
Eucalyptus oil comes from the blue gum or eucalyptus tree. Australia grows 120 varieties. It is an evergreen and grows to great heights. Probably the first eucalyptus trees imported into America are still growing in Alameda, California, the home of Bishop William Taylor. When the bishop went to Australia he was struck with the beauty of these trees, and in 1849 he sent some seeds home to his wife, who planted them in her greenhouse. When the young trees were 18 inches high, they were transplanted outside. After two years, they were about five feet high and doing extremely well. The bishop was requested to send more seeds, which Mrs. Taylor promised to raise and give to the ranchers, explaining their merits. The wood is particularly hard, and when well seasoned, is excellent for furniture. When a eucalyptus tree is cut even to the ground, it will send out new shoots and grow again.

Broke His Vow

"After trying all remedies and doctors for stomach trouble for eight long years I decided I couldn't take another dose of any kind of medicine, but when I saw what Mayr's Wonderful Remedy did for a friend, who also suffered from bloating as I did, I concluded to try it myself. It helped me at once." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

HEAD COLDS ENDED BY HEALING CREAM

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes and you get instant relief.

Try this. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up; your head is clear; no more hawking or snuffling. Count fifty. All the stuffiness, dryness, struggling for breath is gone. You feel fine.—Adv.

Macaroni At It's Best

KITCHEN BOUQUET, a purely vegetable product, is in almost every pantry. Housewives know it is the secret of making good gravies and soups, but KITCHEN BOUQUET is equally good in preparing many other dishes. Try your next dish of macaroni prepared this way—

BAKED MACARONI
1/4 package macaroni, broken in pieces
1 teaspoon salt
1 quart boiling water
1/4 cup grated cheese
1 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
Milk Butter

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender, drain and blanch with cold water. Place one-third the cooked macaroni in buttered baking dish, dot with butter and sprinkle with grated cheese, then pour macaroni, butter and cheese until dish is full. Add Kitchen Bouquet to milk and pour this over the macaroni to nearly cover, then sprinkle thickly with cheese. Bake in medium hot oven a half hour, until nicely browned and serve immediately for dinner.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOXER MAY GO BACK TO CLASS

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—Fernal Ruffles, who forsook Sunday school teaching and choir directing in Hanford, Calif., for a career as a pugilist, was knocked out on his first appearance in a San Francisco ring. Ted Snyder, who describes himself as heavyweight champion of the Marines, dealt the sleep producer in the final frame of a four round main event.
